

CHANGES AT THE THEATRES.

INAUGURATION OF THE NEW VANDEN-
VILLE SHOW AT PROCTOR'S.

CHAUNCEY OLCOIT AS A SUCCESSOR TO
W. J. SCANIAN.

Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre was opened yesterday as a resort where "continuous gaiety" will reign every day from 12:30 until 10 P.M. People are not necessarily expected to stay through the entire performance, but rather to drop in and revolve until they grow weary. It, however, looks inclined for a ten hours' siege of vaudeville they can stay, and the management declare that they will be welcome. The programme yesterday was exceedingly long and varied. "The Man in the Moon," by the Marie Gurney English Opera Company that included Miss Gurney, Anna Gornet, George Paxton, Walter Ashton, F. J. Myers and G. K. Moore. The vaudeville programme introduced Vesta, "the juvenile Bernhardt"; William A. Mestayer, Stark and Zeno, William Jerome, Billy Carter, L. W. Hampton, the Bell Sisters, Nellie and Walker, Tom Flynn, Miss Carrie Tuttle, the three Donzettis, brothers, Mason and Halston, Miles, Garrett, the Daly sisters, the exceedingly clever dancers; Miss Marie Gurney, James Thornton, who sang his own topical songs, and a number of others. Every effort will be made to render the new policy an attractive one. It is especially designed to appeal to ladies. There was a very big attendance.

STAR THEATRE.

Mrs. Minnie Hale-Haynes appeared at the Star Theatre last night as Juliet, in "Romeo and Juliet." She has already played this part in New York, but she now has an admirable company. Eben Plympton was Romeo; Miles Levien, Mercutio; John Mahon, Friar Laurence; Fred Sibley, Paris; Arthur Lewis, Tybalt; Mrs. Smith, the nurse; and Miss Lizzie Goode, Lady Capulet.

HERRMANN'S THEATRE.

Marion Monroe and Jack Mason appeared at Herrmann's Theatre last night in Robert's admirable comedy, "Casto." Those who have not been played too soon, time, Miss Monroe and Jack Mason were the D'Arlays. Esther sang some songs which was something of a surprise, but not altogether a satisfactory one. Still it is a matter of some sets out to appear as Esther Eccles, we must expect a dash of music.

FOURTH STREET THEATRE.

"The Blue Jean" was given yesterday at the Fourth Street theatre last night, and drew a large audience. The buzz saw scene was as thrilling as ever, and the apparatus when the hero was rescued from its lair was as curious as ever. The play is an interesting one, and the types introduced are human and neatly drawn. This is the last engagement of the Blue Jeans in New York this season. The performance was satisfactory in every way.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.

Miss Nellie McLeary appeared in H. Gratian Donnelly's farce, "A Night at the Circus," at the Grand Opera-House last night. The play was well acted, and received a cordial welcome. John Webster, Ben Lodge, J. H. Bradbury, W. H. Mack, Thomas O'Brien, Benjamin F. Grimes, Frank C. Jones, Charles H. Nichols, Mandie Blanchard, Helen Bryant, Jim Casella, June Rempe, Clara Havell and Henrietta Hyatt. The specialities introduced were exceedingly effective.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE.

Miss Eva Mountford appeared in a new play called "At the Carnival" at the People's Theatre last night. The play takes place in Rome and Paris, and is a highly romantic and interesting story. Miss Mountford is a street singer who became a prima donna and did very well indeed. In her company were Mrs. May, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. Anna Nutter and Jessie, cast the American cutlets; Jerome, the man in red; and Layman, the clever India artist.

RAILROADS AND RAILROAD MEN.

News and Gossip of Interest in Transportation Circles.

The Freight Committee of the Trunk Line Association met today for the purpose of making arrangements to meet the projected rate of the State Express on the New York Central line.

There was a meeting between Stevens and Buffalo. One hundred and forty-eight miles were covered in two days.

In the dash of Matthew T. Haas last night, the freight department of the Pennsylvania lost one of its side and best-known employees. He was born in Nashville, Tenn., and since 1874 had been connected with the railroad. He is a native of that city, and has a remarkable resemblance to the late Senator Haas.
